Scope and Content

This collection consists of eight boxes (3 cubic ft.) and holds the records of the New Orphan Asylum for Colored Youth (1875-1967). There are three series, 1. General Files, 1937-1965, n.d., 2. Children's Records, 1912-1967, and 3. Minutes and Building Fund Drive, 1875-1965.

The first series contains a variety of documents, mainly reports and financial statements. Series 2, which is in box 2, holds cards for the children which contain the child's name, birth date and information on parents and family, if known. Series 3 are volumes of Minutes of the Board of Trustees, the Lady Managers and one volume on the Building Fund Drive in 1945-1947. Every effort was made to note the names of children mentioned in the minutes, as well as the page that they appeared on. Box 8, volume 6, the 1945-1947 Building Fund Drive Journal of Receipts has some entries missing due to water damage.

Historical/Biographical Information

The New Orphan Asylum for Colored Youth began in 1844 by Lydia P. Mott and through the work of an association of both white and African American men and women. This first association consisted of six white men, ten black men, four white women and eight black women. Salmon P. Chase worked for and secured its charter from the State of Ohio and the asylum opened its doors in a rented building on Ninth Street between Elm and Plum Streets in 1845. Shortly thereafter, Nicholas Longworth purchased the building and charged the asylum $12.50 in rent each month. The first board consisted of prominent Cincinnatians and included William Donaldson, John Woodson, Richard Phillips, Christian Donaldson, Reuben P. Graham, Richard Pullan, Charles Satchell, Louis P. Brax and John Liverpool. A board of Lady Managers was formed, consisting of ten women that supervised the conditions of the property and children. There was also a Matron and Steward, often a married couple that lived at the asylum with the children. When conditions at the asylum deteriorated badly in the early 1850s due to lack of funds and improper care Levi Coffin and his wife Catherine White Coffin were the steward and matron for the years 1852-1853, helping to return order to the institution.

The land the building stood on was purchased in 1851 for $4400. Within a decade they had outgrown this building and in 1866 it was sold and six acres in Avondale at Van Buren and Melish Avenues were purchased for $11,000. The building on the Avondale property, which had been a freedman hospital during the Civil War, was remodeled and the asylum moved to the hills of Cincinnati.

In 1895 John J. and Joseph J. Emery donated $50,000 in the name of their father, Thomas Emery, to erect a new building on the property. In 1920 Thomas J. Emery's widow, Mary M. Emery, donated $25,000 for an addition to the building in his name. There were no further improvements to the building until a building fund drive in 1945-1947. Homer E. Lunken, of the Lunkenheimer Company and Dr. Otto P. Geier, retired from the Cincinnati Milling Machine Company, headed the fund drive to raise $160,000. A new building was constructed with dorms for both boys and girls.

The orphanage closed in 1967 when the land was taken for the development of Interstate 71. Throughout its history the asylum cared for both orphans and children whose parents could not physically or economically care for them.
