Scope and Content

The bulk of this collection consists of the minutes of the Board of Lady Managers from 1854-1920 and from 1945-1957. It also contains the minutes of the Board of Trustees from 1860-1955. There is a volume of daily activities, 1864-1865 (volume 10) written by the House Matron and admission listings, 1861-1865 (box 1 folder 21, volume 11). The minutes of the Board of Lady Managers also mentioned some women and children by name (volumes 1-9). The names of the women and children found in these records have been listed in the inventory. The best effort was made to transcribe the names just as they were written, even if the original contained misspellings. Certain names may be spelled differently at various times depending on who the recorder was. In some cases only the first name of the woman or just her last name were listed.

The latter part of Box 2 consists of several histories compiled by various people using the minute books as their source. The rest of the box contains various reports of individuals or committees dating from 1940s to the 1950s. Box 1 also contains legal material including copies of the Incorporation papers and the decree for changing the name of the institution. The only financial records are an Account Book (1921-1927), the financial statements found in the minutes and annual reports of the Board of Trustees.

Historical/Biographical Information

Maple Knoll opened in 1855 on West Court Street in Cincinnati as a maternity and lying-in home. It was founded as The Female Guardian Society and Home for the Friendless. "One of the prime motives of the home was to furnish shelter for young women from the country seeking employment, who were in danger, through their ignorance, of being enticed to questionable houses." From this modest beginning it grew to a social program of such scope that the home was required to change location four times in the first seven years of existence.

The Home went through many name changes over the years, including Protestant Home for the Friendless and House of Industry, Protestant Home for the Friendless and Foundlings, The Hospital and Home for the Friendless and Maple Knoll Hospital and Home.

In 1892 the Home was enlarged and opened a maternity ward. "The hospital is for married women whose husbands have deserted them or who have lost their situations and cannot meet the expenses of their wives' confinement."

In 1926, 31 acres of farm land in the suburb of Glendale became the new site for the maternity hospital and home. In 1966 Maple Knoll phased out the maternity hospital and concentrated on lying-care for unwed mothers. Applications were accepted regardless of age, race, creed or place of residence. A fee was normally charged but needy girls were not turned away.

Maple Knoll Hospital closed in June 1973 after 118 years. That year the Widow's and Old Men's Home, founded in 1846, and Maple Knoll Home merged to meet the needs of the aging citizen's in the Cincinnati area.

In 1977 a $12.5 million Maple Knoll Village in Glendale was dedicated as a comprehensive care facility. It provided an independent living building of apartments, a nursing care building, and a shared central building offering entertainment, recreation and shopping facilities.
